

Constructing a restaurant in the middle of the quay would result in an undesirable privatization of this public area.