

Placing the restaurant on one side ensures a future mix of public and private use for the quay.