

A public viewing platform doubles the public space and provides shelter for the rain on the quay itself.